

20TH ANNUAL GREAT LAKES RESEARCH CONSORTIUM STUDENT/FACULTY CONFERENCE

Call For Student Papers

The 20th annual Great Lakes Research Consortium Student-Faculty Conference will be held March 19-20, 2010 at the SUNY College of Environmental Science and Forestry in Syracuse, New York. Student presentations give students who are developing future research plans an opportunity to present their ideas to an audience of peers and faculty and can be either: 1) Results of ongoing or completed research, or 2) Research plans and proposals. Each presentation is followed by a short discussion.

There will be several sessions including:

- Social Science including Economics, Human Dimensions, Policy and Planning;
- Limnology and Ecology including Fisheries, and Trophic Interactions;
- Environmental Chemistry and Toxicology;
- Environmental Engineering and Ecosystem Modeling; and

Final session categories will be based on papers received.

All students presenting at the Conference will receive free registration, including meals at the luncheon and banquet. The best presentation in each category will receive a $100 award. Travel support may be available from your GLRC Campus Representative.

Please submit an abstract of your research or proposed research by electronic mail as a Word document. Files should be named with the presenter's last name (e.g., smith.doc), and include:

1. Title
2. Authors (Include student's advisor and any other contributors)
3. Institution (Name of School)
4. Address (Home Address, Street, City, State/Province, Zip)
5. Email, Phone
6. Session Preference (Chemistry, Engineering, Public Policy, Limnology, etc.)
7. Presentation Format (Oral or Poster)
8. Abstract (not to exceed 250 words)

This year's plenary session will focus on Environmental Economics and the Great Lakes. It will include talks and a panel discussion on the economic value of the Great Lakes, and fiscal implications of Great Lakes restoration.

Posters presented at the Conference will be considered for presentation as part of the legislative session at Great Lakes Day in Albany, NY on March 23, 2010. More details on Great Lakes Day to come.

Deadline for submission of abstracts is February 15, 2010. Notification of receipt will be made within 2 days after submission, and session placement will be available on February 22, 2010.

Send abstracts to:

Email: glrc@esf.edu. For more information call Heather Carrington at (315) 470-6720 or visit

Website: www.esf.edu/glrc